STARTING WORK ON ZINC OXIDE MILL AT DONORA

New Plant Will Control the Waste and Manufacture
Valuable Paint Product

TO OPERATE FIRST OF YEAR

To provide for the manufacture of zinc oxide as a by-product of zinc manufacture at the Donora Zinc Works, the contract has been let and construction is being started for the construction of a new plant that will when completed represent an outlay of some hundred thousands of dollars and afford employment to 150 additional men. This will be the newest of the United States Steel Corporation's improvements at Donora.

Zinc oxide is a product used in the manufacture of paint. It will be obtained from the smoke and fumes that now constitute a direct waste at the Donora zinc plant.

Separate furnaces will be erected and a system to catch all particles of waste in mesh bags installed. These mesh bags will be operated after the manner of a vacuum cleaner. When filled they will be emptied and their contents converted by proper treatment into a high grade of zinc oxide.

The American Bridge Company has the contract for the structural steel and sheet work. With good weather rapid progress will be made on the plant. It is the expectation of the Steel Corporation to have it in operation by the first of the year.

He denies that at the time he was an inexperienced driver.

MINERS INJURED IN SLATE FALL

Hazzard Station Man May Die From Broken Back
—Removed to Hospital

LATE "MAN TRIP" STOPPED

One man was so badly injured that he will probably die and others were more or less bruised when the "man trip" from the Ella mine north of Webster was stopped by a fall of slate late Wednesday afternoon. Quinto Blitz of Hazzard Station sustained a broken back. He was taken to the Mercy hospital at Pittsburgh, where his condition is critical. Mike Comer of Hazzard and Henry Metz of Sunnyside received cuts and bruises. The story has just become known. The late afternoon trip with miners was on its way from the innermost recesses of the mine when the slate fall happened, catching some of the men in the foremost section of the party.

POWDERED COAL TO BE TRIED FOR GAS

American Steel and Wire Mill at Donora Proposes to Relieve Gas Shortage by New System Which Experiments Have Proven Worth While

Troubled by gas shortage the American Steel and Wire company at Donora is preparing to install a powdered coal process for furnace heat. This will be an entirely new process in this part of the country and will be used completely as a substitute for gas.

Last winter the American Steel and Wire Company experienced considerable difficulty operating steadily on account of lack of gas. Steps were taken early in the year to remedy the difficulty. Experiments into the use of powdered coal were made and they proved satisfactory, giving a blast as hot as gas. The system will be installed at the Donora wire mill before becoming of cold weather.

Another improvement already under way at the wire mill is that of the installation of a new fire system that will cost completed $85,000. The system will generally be similar to sprinkler systems used in other plants but made especially for steel concerns. A tank 105 feet high will be erected for holding the water. Five thousand feet of pipe will be used in the plant. The process will provide for release of water when automatic valves are removed by heat.

NEW WAGE SCALES

Money is circulating in America very freely. Manufacturers have made large profits and a large new list of millionaires has been created. Prosperity, originating with war munitions, has spread throughout the nation. Labor, realizing this condition has insisted upon a large share of the profits. This tendency has been largely responsible for the labor troubles of the country as evidenced in the garment makers' strike the strike of the street railway employees in New York and the strike ballot taken on the railroads of the nation, says the Uniontown Herald.

Labor has been paid high wages, in some instances voluntarily and in others as a result of the threat of strikes, but the fact should be faced that while capitalists may consider their present prosperity temporary, labor considers the present high wage scale as permanent.

If any injury results to the market of the United States at the close of the European war, labor will be the first interest affected. There will have to be either a large curtailment of the force employed or else a general reduction in the wage scale.

The protection of the American market therefore is of far more importance to American labor than to American manufacturers. With the labor cost abnormally large when compared to the foreign labor cost, manufacturers will not be able to retain the great export trade that has been secured during the two years of the war. It becomes doubly important therefore that the American market should be protected so that the cheaper labor cost of European nations may not cause a crumpling effect in the American market.

Every effort should be made to prevent a period of reduced wages after the war is over. The only way in which such a reduction can be prevented is by giving adequate protection to the manufacturing industries of the nation.

KEEP-DOWN WEEDS

It has well been said that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." This is especially applicable at this time in respect to the health of every community, when diseases of a very fatal character prevail in many sections of the country, says the Washington Observer.

The best and surest way to resist disease at this season of the year is by keeping clean, not only personally, but in having yards and surroundings free from filth of all kinds in which the germs of disease breed and thrive. This injunction applies not only to the residents of populated centers but to every resident whether in town or country.

The matter of keeping down weeds ought to be one of civic pride if nothing else. Everyone knows how unsightly a lot or farm is, when grown-up in weeds. Travelers, along our highways comment on a neat, attractive, clean, well kept farm with the brush and weeds removed from the fence corners and no vacant places about the house or outbuildings grown rank with summer weeds. In addition the removal of these weeds is a distinct benefit to the people from the standpoint of health. Many people are afflicted in the summer season from the pollen escaping from the rank vegetation. Keep yourself clean; keep your premises clean, cut the weeds—observe the rules which make for a healthful condition of your community.

There must be something good about Charleroi's system of sewage disposal when city officials will come from as far away as the city of DuBois to examine it and to inquire into methods of operation and possibilities. We suppose a garbage plant must have a hard time of it, for there is anything in the world that has no friends and no means of acquiring them it is a garbage plant. Some men will love a locomotive and laugh over its idiosyncrasies at a talented writer puts them into fiction, but nobody loves a garbage disposal plant. Yet a garbage plant, rejoicing in the high-sounding title, of incinerating plant, is one of the most necessary things a municipality can own. Locating it is one problem of the average garbage committees. Keeping it in repair is another.

STEEL PRODUCTS TEAM WINS HERMINIE GAME

Joe Gray Pitches in Good Form, Permitting Only Two Scratchy Hits—Gene Elliott Hits Four Times For Total of 18 Bases

There were three features to the game at Herminie which the Pittsburgh Steel Products club won Thursday. One of them was the pitching of Joe Gray, who never twirled a mittling Only Two Scratchy Hits—of Gene Elliott and another was the all round classy ball played by the Steel Products. The score was a shutout victory 10 to 0.

Joe Gray permitted only two of the scratchiest sort of hits. Not a run was scored off him and the men back of him gave splendid support.

Gene Elliott was in big league form again. He had four hits for a total of 18 bases and scored four runs. Of his hits three were homers and the other was a corking two bagger. Only the speed of the middle fielder who broke it down saved it from being a home run. Elliott's batting record was wellnigh perfect. He got on base once when hit by the pitcher. Heavy clouting when clouting meant runs scored all for the Steel Products. Score:

TRAVELERS' TALES.

Some That Were Discredited and Vindicated Long Afterward.

Travelers' tales have often been accused of being mere flights of imagination, and in the past stay at home people have sometimes eyed in treating travelers' tales with scorn. There was, for instance, the description by James Bruce in 1773 of the barbarous Abyssinian court and of eating raw meat out from a living antlion, which was ridiculed by everybody. Yet Bruce was proved right. When Paul du Chaillu explored equatorial Africa in 1881 and described the wonderful societies and the habits of the natives there he was discredited some ten years later by the British Royal Geographical Society. Yet subsequent explorers amply vindicated his veracity.

In the matter of discredited travelers' tales which dated long afterward it will never be possible to beat the classic instance in Herminie. He tells how King Neco of Egypt commissioned certain Phoenician mariners to circumnavigate Africa if they could. They did it, starting from the Red sea and returning by the straits of Gibraltar after very many months. And they reported, says Herodotus, that in rounding the southern end of Africa they had the sun on their right hand. "I, for my part," he says, "do not believe this, but perhaps others may."

In modern times that detail is precisely what proves that the Phoenicians did achieve the wonderful voyage. Such an "improbable" fact could never have been invented in an age which was not familiar with the equator.

ORIENTAL CUNNING.

How a Wily Princeling Rewarded His Pompous Minister.

The princeling of an oriental country had sent to his minister in a far, rich country the decoration of the national Order of the Golden Goat. It was a cheap trinket, plentifully adorned with imitation jewels. But the minister, being a vain man and prosperous, had the false stones replaced by real ones and wore his order thereafter with proper pride.

Then after some years the princeling came a-visiting to the far country. Naturally the minister came to pay his respects. Almost at once the eyes of the princeling fell upon the order with the real stones, and he sat as one fascinated, prolonging the interview with idle questions and paying no attention to the answers. He was resolving a problem—for the princeling was leaner than usual just then. At last he saw his way clear to make a coup.

"It is time," he said to the minister, "that your valuable services to your country should receive additional recognition from your country's prince. I hereby (he reached into a pocket somewhere about his plump person) advance you from the second to the first class of the Order of the Golden Goat." With these words he pinned upon the minister's swelling chest the new decoration.

Of course it was necessary to remove the old decoration first. This, with its collection of real stones, he dropped carelessly into one of the royal pockets.—New York Post.

Pitcairn Island.

Pitcairn island is in latitude 25 degrees 3 minutes south and longitude 130 degrees 6 minutes west, or almost exactly south of Vancouver island, and just a little south of the tropic of Capricorn. It was first settled in 1790 by nine mutineers from the English ship Bounty and eighteen natives of Tahiti. By the year 1808, when the island was discovered by the English, the population had grown to sixty-six persons, who formed a model community under the patriarchal government of John Adams, the only surviving mutineer, who had saved a Bible from the ship and was ruling with wisdom and justice his little kingdom of slightly over two miles in length. The island now has over 200 population.—Christian Herald.

The man who knows and knows not he knows, shut him. He may wake up and become wise to you. The man who knows and knows he knows, he is a bore. Blackball him.—Judge.

An Unfortunate Omission.

MONEY-BACK Bread Has Ended Bakeday Drudgery

LONG before the christian era, the task of baking the bread was settled on the overburdened shoulders of womankind.

Today it remains in thousands of homes as the only remaining relic of the days when women spun the cloth, and molded the tallow candles.

AMONG THE THEATRES

PALACE—CHARLEROI

Two excellent programs of vaudeville were presented at the Palace theatre during the week. The first part of the week the leading attraction was Elridge and Barlow presenting their comedy playlet "The Law." This act played at the Harris theatre in Pittsburg last week where it scored a big hit. The Burton Duo, slack wire artists entertained with feats of daring. Barney Mack a character comedian, singer and dancer won much applause for his work. The program for the last part of the week was featured by The Five Musical Mads in an act filled with music, numbers both vocal and instrumental. This act will go to the Harris theatre direct from Charleroi. Jack and Louise Jell presented "Run in Monkeyland" a comedy, singing and dancing sketch.

COYLE—CHARLEROI

This was a week of strong summer programs at the Coyle theatre, beginning on Monday with the great Fox drama, "The Tortured Heart" with Virginia Pearson in the chief role. A heart interest drama was produced. On Tuesday, Victor Moore was featured in "The Clown," an unique attraction of much merit. Wednesday Mme. Perova appeared in "The Eternal Question," this being a Metro attraction. A Paramount film was the chief picture of the Thursday program. This was "Susie Snowflake," with Ann Pennington in the stellar role. "Seing New York with John Dango" a film put out by a yeast firm held contemporary interest. Friday's chapter of Billie Burke in "Gloria's Romance" is billed and on Saturday "The Mark of Cain" promises to be a sterling attraction.

MAJESTIC—CHARLEROI

An unusually attractive program of motion pictures was shown at the Majestic theatre during the past week. Monday the attraction was "Father of Men" a special picture by the Vitaphone company. Robert Edeson appeared in the two leading parts and was at his best in this production. Scenes were laid in the Northwest. "The Sorrows of Love," featuring Bessie Barrable was the Tuesday feature. Italy was the setting for this picture and violent deeds were portrayed. The most distinctive feature of the week was the Wednesday program, which presented Alice Brady who appeared as Mimi in Henri Murger's famous story La Vie De Boheme. Friday an entertaining comedy drama was "Reggie Mixes In," featuring Douglas Fairbanks and Bessie Love.

Harmony in the Leaves of a Tree.

One of the remarkable characteristics of a tree is the process of leafage, and if we examine the bough upon which the leaves grow the admiration of the scientific agriculturist will become thoroughly aroused over the perfect consistency and artistic skill manifested in the arrangement of each spray and the exact number of leaves arranged with the most exquisite art and regularity. Every group of leaves forms merely long lines, no two alike, no two in the same position, yet all so perfect and harmoniously blended that there can be no antagonism, no sameness and all those thousands and thousands of strange and delicate forms grouped together, neither confused nor ill arranged.

Calcium's Value in Tuberculosis

As a tonic and remedial agent in the treatment of tuberculosis, this element is being studied by scientists and physicians everywhere.

For more than two decades users of Eckman's Alternative have tested its efficacy in such cases, for calcium chloride is one of the chief constituents of this preparation, which has produced beneficial results in thousands of instances. And in this form it is so combined as to be easily assimilated.

If you are thus afflicted, a trial may prove this to be just what is needed to assist Nature in bringing about a return to normal health.

It is safe to take, because it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs of any sort.

Man Who Walks Upon His Head With Sparks Circus

The old saying, "see one circus and you have seen them all," does not apply to the performance presented by the Sparks Circus this season.

A feature that is entirely new in this country and that stands out as a distinct novelty, is the wonderful performance of Henri Mordette, "the man who walks upon his head." This wonderful exhibition of skill and daring consists in bounding up and down stairways balanced upon his head, with no support other than the contact of his head with the steps. The fine balance that must be maintained to accomplish this feat can only be appreciated after seeing this wonderful act accomplished. This novelty will positively be seen at each performance of the Sparks Circus here next Monday, August 14.

Saving for a Rainy Day.

Jake Pentecost was a unique character. He had a large family and although he was reasonably diligent in the use of saw and ax on the village woodpiles, he frequently came to seek aid from the city fathers. "I gotta half a sack of flour," said Jake on one occasion. "I'm all out and my family 'iss starvin'." "All right, Jake," said the official. "If you need the sack of flour and have no money to buy it with, we'll get you a sack. But see here, Jake, there's a circus coming to town in a few days, and if we get you a sack of flour are you sure that you will not sell it and take your family to the circus?" "Oh, no," said Jake. "I already got ten sacks up. Yes, I got money to go to circus."—Fourth's Communion.
